The matches against RAF/Wales, etc., Army and L&MRA are very much training events which allow for considerable experimentation so please feel free to indicate interest, regardless of whether or not you have previously been selected to shoot for Scotland. Cost per weekend will be approximately £85.00, exclusive of meals and accommodation, the actual figure being dependent upon 2009 ammunition costs. Places will be made available to include a number of younger shots from Scottish Schools and Universities in all training weekends.

For those who indicate availability for the RAF/Wales weekend, a fully detailed programme will be drawn up and sent out to them by e-mail, or for the few without e-mail, by post.

Captain of Scotland
